EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

2. The application has been amended as follows:

In Claim 31, replaced "claim 2" with --claim 1--.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. Rejections set forth previously under this section are withdrawn in view of the persuasive arguments on pages 8-10 of the 20 June 2008 response.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 1, 3, 7-9, 11-14, 16-20, 22-31 are allowed.

5. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The prior art does not teach or fairly suggest the subject matter of Claims 1 and 16, as amended. The most pertinent references are Taniishi (US 4291505), Yu (US 5,606,396), and Yu (US 5,240,532). Yu ('396) teaches a process in which a heat source is provided before the processing tube (Fig. 5, item 100) but does not teach or fairly suggest a heat source at the processing tube in combination with the claimed roller dimension and differential diameter. Yu ('396) teaches that the roll following the heat source is a chill roll having the purpose of decreasing the temperature of the web (columns

17 and 18) which would therefore appear to teach away from providing a heat source at the processing tube, as claimed. Yu ('532) teaches to heat the material and cool the web while it is bent into an arcuate shape, but in combination with Yu ('396) does not teach or fairly suggest providing a continuous process in which a heat source is provided at the processing tube in combination with the claimed roller dimension and differential diameter. While Taniishi does teach a reverse crown roller, the only expressly suggested application is in a process of providing toner in an electrophotographic apparatus, rather than in an annealing process with a heat source. In view of these various differences, the references do not teach or fairly suggest the claimed subject matter as a whole.

6. Also see pages 8-10 of the Applicant's response filed 20 June 2008, particularly with respect to Yu '396 and Taniishi.

7. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
